Stand up Bob and tell in the velfare of the entire State, and | us what you have done for us w' ile we will continue to present these interests in its columns to public notice with all the ability it commands. When engaged in a duty there is upon each citizen there is in the State, it will be the object of the paper to do the work in a way that will be to the best interests of all the people, by giving them such information and encouragement in their efforts as can be acquired and given under the conditions there are upon the State.

The relations of the State to business are not what they should be, as the people have had no stimulus given them to act. Repressive measures have been upon them during the years they have toiled to acquire homes and bring up, their families, which they have succeeded in doing in a very commendable way. The pressure there has been and continues to be upon river. them is not and was not calculated to bring in its train wealth or business people. The lumber interests above mentioned have not been lost to Reno in a sense which may be termed a loss. The town may have failed to secure than they could have gotten when they them, which was probable it would, removed as it is from the timber and lumber centers. Natural conditions apply to all things, and it requires money energy to overcome adverse natural conditions, which the people of Reno did not have. When it is not of enthusiasm. He brought a couple of it to the interest of others to identify themselves with them in their business grade proposition, carrying g $^{\rm alc}$, silver industries, it will make very little, if any, difference how intelligent and enterprising they may be about the result.

The Journal had something to do with procuring an organization of the society called Reno Improvement Association last spring, which in less than a year has become a narrow affair, directed on the theory of the old Methodist prayer: "O Lord, bless me directed or enlarged by any such two Austin and Lovelock. by four arrangement, it is a public to their size who are disinterested in in Virginia City. munity, and not exclude them.

The people of Reno were alive to the advantages the town would receive from any lumber enterprise that might cause an additional industry among them and they should not be charged with a lack of enlightened enterprise for $36,000. Mr. Fulton and the Gazette were in Renc when the several matters mentioned were within the reach of the people, which they lost as charged because of a lack of enlightened enterprise. Why is it that the people were not informed about a possible loss when it could have been prevented by the source of present information on the subject? They must have been aware of the opportunity or they could not now give the people the information which reflects upon their intelligence and enterprise. Mr. Fulton has been at the head of and identified with organizations intended to benefit Reno before the present time. Nevada.

Col. John Sparks, the well known Nevada stockman, is at the Kenyon. He remarked last night: "You may say that the State of Nevada is in a more prosperous condition than she has been for the last twenty years. The rain has fallen all over the State in such abundance that the soil has been drenched and the ranges are in very fine condition everywhere. The crops too are all doing very well and vegetation seems to have sprung up all over the State. Both cattle and sheep are in as good shape as could be desired."

"Lincoln county and eastern Nevada in general is the better for the heavy rains that fell recently," said P. B. McKeon yesterday, at the Cullen. "It is a long time since the roads in western Utab and eastern Nevada were in such good shape; several years, anyhow. It is interesting to notice the Mr. and Mrs. W. O. H. Martin are in vegetation that has been springing up all over the desert; grass here, there, everywhere. All nature, through the arid sections, seems to be happy and amiling over the refreshing showers that fell over the sands and gave new life to everything."

> Mr. McKeon says that Pioche people in particular are gratified over the pre-

After witnessing four performances by Dailey's company one can more fully appreciate the purport of Mr. Dailey's remark's Monday evening, when he said he submitted the organization for the critical consideration organization it is one of exceptional merit far in advance of its prices.

Last night they gave the pretty little love story, "Esmeralda," to a large audience. Mr. Dailey made a capital "old man Rogers." Miss Nannary, in the title role, was both demure and forcible. Mrs. Belmour was an admirable foil to Mr. Dailey as Mrs. Rogers, and the balance were capitally placed. A pleasing part of this presentation, and it has been noticeable all the week, was the ladies dresses, which are tasty and stylisb.

To-night this competent company will present the well known military drama, "Held by the Enemy."

East Lynne" will open this morning, No. 20, and as Lady Isabelle is one of Miss Nannary's most pretentious efforts, the demand by the ladies will doubtless be
